

We can highly recommend Heath Galloway as a professional tradesman. Right from the start of the project, Heath exhibited best intentions to undertake the job from planning design through to time line and control of product costs.

Heath even went to showroom displays to assist us with selecting the best material to complement our renovation.

Throughout the whole job, he tidied up after each day and endeavored at all times to minimize disruptions to the household.

The end job was beyond our expectations and would highly recommend Heath to any one, in fact as people visit us, they immediately ask who did the bathroom, and sadly we say you have to fly Heath from America to do your job.

Wayne and Sonia Horewood
Adelaide, South Australia

Provide link to job photos including before through to finish